

Protecting Children Policy and Practice Advisor

Recruitment Pack

Dear Candidate,

Thank you for your interest in this post.

Social Work Scotland is the professional body for social work managers and leaders. We are a membership organisation with over 350 individual and corporate members. We exist to promote and support the development of the social work profession, and to inform, influence and improve public policy and public services.

We are excited to be recruiting for a new Protecting Children Policy and Practice Advisor. With funding provided by Scottish Government, this post will play a key role in supporting statutory social work to integrate and implement the refreshed national Child Protection Guidance. The post will help facilitate connections between the leadership of the profession, Scottish Government and Child Protection Committees Scotland. It will also contribute extensively to Social Work Scotland's work around delivery of the Promise, and national discussions relating to Equal Protection, the Age of Criminal Responsibility, incorporation of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) and reform of Joint Investigative Interviewing of Children.

Working in partnership with local social work Child Protection leads, Scottish Government Social Work Professional Advisors and colleagues in CELCIS, etc., the post will provide both capacity and leadership at the national level. Taking direction from our Chief Social Work Officer network, Child Protection Sub-Group and Children and Families Standing Committee, the post holder will have the chance to assert the unique contribution and value of social work in the provision of holistic support for children and families. At the core of Social Work Scotland is a commitment to assisting the profession be the best it can be for the individuals, families and communities who need social work or social care support; the Protecting Children Policy and Practice Advisor role is central to us delivering on that commitment.

Applicants should have experience of policy development and implementation, and be confident operating at a national level. We are looking for an individual who can identify issues, articulate solutions that are workable, and build consensus; all with a view to social work values and principles. The post holder will be a qualified and registered social worker with significant experience in children and families social work.

To apply for this post, please submit a covering letter/email and a completed application form. Your covering letter should be between 800 and 1000 words and should set out why you want the job, summarise your relevant experience, and explain how you meet the job's 'Person Specification'. Please state in your application form if you do want us to contact references prior to interview. Secondments welcome.

Please find included in this pack:

1. Key information, including contact details and summary of the recruitment process
2. Information about Social Work Scotland
3. Job description
4. Person specification

Completed application forms and covering letters should be sent to admin@socialworkscotland.org by 08:00 on Monday 21 June 2021.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Ben Farrugia

Director, Social Work Scotland

2. ABOUT SOCIAL WORK SCOTLAND

Who are we and what do we do?

Social Work Scotland is the professional body for social work managers and leaders. We are a membership body, with members coming from across the public, private and voluntary sectors. We exist to promote and support the development of the social work profession, and to influence and inform public policy affecting social workers, social services and local communities.

Upholding the values which underpin the social work profession, we give importance to every individual's experiences and voice, and seek to make social justice real through all that we do. We embrace change and encourage collaboration. We are committed to creating opportunities for our members and team through which individuals can develop as compassionate, creative and effective leaders.

Our core objectives (as set out in Social Work Scotland's Articles of Association)

- a) Pursue social justice, human rights and equality for all of Scotland's citizens
- b) Promote the unique role, value and contribution of social work
- c) Articulate the expertise and insight of social work managers
- d) Inform the development and implementation of policy, at national and local levels
- e) Support high-quality and effective leadership within social work and social care
- f) Champion research and evidence as the basis of policy and practice
- g) Facilitate collaboration and practice improvement among social work and social care providers
- h) Shape the direction and development of social work in Scotland

To help deliver these objectives we facilitate a large number of committees and sub-groups, populated by our members. Among these is the Chief Social Work Officers network. Governance is provided primarily by the Social Work Scotland Board, which is made up of company and non-executive directors; it is chaired by Social Work Scotland's Convenor.

Our Team

We have a small core team consisting of:

- Director
- Head of Policy and Workforce
- Administration and Finance Officer
- Communications and Events Manager
- Modern Apprentice (Administration and Communications)

We are (or will be soon) recruiting for four new posts in our core team: a Children and Families Social Work Policy and Practice Lead; an Adult Social Work Policy and Practice Lead; a Justice Social Work Policy and Practice Lead; and a Protecting Children Policy and Practice Advisor.

We also host a number of other staff who are with us for a fixed time, working on a specific project (usually in partnership with Scottish Government or other national partner). At the moment we have eight staff in these posts:

- Joint Investigative Interviewing of Children Project x 3
- Self-Directed Support Project x 3

- Social Work Education Partnership x 2

3. JOB DESCRIPTION

As Social Work Scotland's Protecting Children Policy and Practice Advisor you will provide the national team and partners with operational insight and expertise around child protection and related issues. You will play a key role in national discussions around implementation of the refreshed Child Protection Guidance (2021), the Promise, youth justice, etc., as well as workforce capacity and the learning and development needs of the profession. You will assist project leads in the delivery of their work programmes, and support colleagues and Social Work Scotland members to realise our organisation's objectives; that includes playing a role in public facing communication about the role and value of social work.

You will link in directly with Social Work Scotland's Children and Families Committee, its Child Protection Sub-Group, our Board, local authority Chief Social Work Officers and key partners (such as the Office of the Chief Social Work Advisor and colleagues in the voluntary sector). You will be a visible representative of the profession, and you will assist others to articulate Social Work Scotland's positions in a number of high-profile forums and settings.

In helping to support effective national leadership of social work in Scotland, you will be expected to ensure the voices of children, families, carers and communities inform all aspects of this role.

You will be supported by, and report to, the Children and Families Social Work Policy and Practice Lead.

Your key responsibilities will be to:

[Strategic / Policy / Workforce]

1. In consultation with relevant Social Work Scotland Chair/s, lead on child protection social work issues for the organisation, establishing working relationships with key partners (including SG Policy Teams and Social Work Professional Advisors, OCSWA, CELCIS, COSLA, Child Protection Committee Scotland, etc.).
2. Provide advice and guidance on matters of child protection social work policy and practice to colleagues, Social Work Scotland members and partners.
3. Engage with and take direction from Chief Social Work Officers, the Children and Families Standing Committee and Child Protection Sub-Group, helping to establish, communicate and deliver on Social Work Scotland priorities / objectives / positions in respect of child protection and related issues.
4. When required, represent Social Work Scotland's members on national groups and forums, or in collaborative work with national partners, or giving evidence to parliamentary or other inquiries.

[Member Engagement and Support]

5. Support Social Work Scotland members to represent the association on national groups and forums, providing briefing and guidance as required.

6. Provide practical support to the Social Work Scotland's Child Protection Sub-Group (and other Sub-Groups as directed), assisting the Chair(s) and administrative colleagues to set the agenda, agree work-plans / outputs, organise and facilitate meetings, keep records (of meetings and membership) and manage member engagement / participation.
7. Support Social Work Scotland Chair/s to provide professional social work leadership at the national level, by maintaining connections with relevant partner organisations and Scottish Government's policy teams and Office of the Chief Social Work Advisor, taking ownership of and delivering on discrete outputs, keeping Committee and Sub-Group members informed about relevant research and national developments, etc.
8. Maintain active connections with Social Work Scotland colleagues and members to ensure cross-Committee issues (e.g. transitions, substance misuse, mental health, etc.) are given attention and profile; includes the establishment of ad-hoc Special Interest Groups, as required.
9. Facilitate the drafting of responses to consultations and calls for evidence, on behalf of Social Work Scotland.
10. Develop briefings and learning opportunities (e.g. seminars, workshops) for Social Work Scotland members and partners, in collaboration with SWS' Communications and Events Manager.

4. PERSON SPECIFICATION

A qualified, experienced children and families' social worker (ideally up to team leader level or above), you are passionate about the value of social work and the development of the profession and social services. You are familiar with the policy development and implementation cycle, keen to bring your insight and experience into national discussions. You are a proven leader, able to take people with you, but also able to reflect and adjust your own position when necessary. You are a credible representative of the profession, able to secure the trust and confidence of your peers.

You must be interested in expanding your knowledge base and understanding other's perspectives. Sound research and analytical skills help you do this. You are sensitive to others positions and needs, and able to plan and facilitate strategies which move us, with partners, towards shared goals. You are excited about this chance to assist Social Work Scotland's members to think through the issues of the day, and to support them to realise the opportunities that are available.

The post holder will have the following attributes:

Essential Criteria

1. Strong interpersonal skills, able to quickly build relationships and trust.
2. Broad but nuanced understanding of contemporary child protection and children and families social work issues, across national, local and practice levels.
3. Educated to a degree level, with a professional social work qualification and registered with the SSSC or equivalent body.
4. Minimum of two years in a children and families social work management position, with operational experience in child protection.
5. Demonstrable experience in leading change, influencing colleagues and partners to achieve specific outcomes.
6. Coaching and mentoring skills, able to support colleagues to develop and improve.
7. Demonstrable high-quality spoken and written communication skills, able to synthesise varied information (including research and statistics) to construct coherent, evidence-based positions.
8. Highly organised, able to plan and deliver to specific timescales.
9. An ability to work flexibly and proactively, using initiative to manage a diverse workload.
10. Competent using MS Office (Outlook, Word, Excel, Powerpoint, etc.)

Desirable criteria

1. Experience in a senior management position within a Scottish local authority, with responsibilities relating to child protection.
2. Experience of working at the national level, engaging with Scottish Government, the Scottish Social Services Council, Care Inspectorate, etc.
3. Current or past membership of Social Work Scotland's Child Protection Sub-Group.
4. Project management skills and/or experience.
5. Familiarity and knowledge with change methodologies, including specifically quality improvement and implementation science.
6. A track record of written output (including local policies and procedures, consultation responses, etc.)
